Your books are Reserved!

Please know that a number of textbooks, supplemental reading, and even project examples are available at the Library. Check at the Check Out desk to see if your textbook needs can be met by the items already on Reserve. However, do you know that a Reserve book is only checked out for 2 hours at a time and a Reserve video gets 24 hours? (so you can take it home and enjoy)

Overdue fees hit hard at $1.25 an hour on books and $1.00 a day for videos. So do be prompt in returning your item. You can check out the item again in 15 minutes if no one has asked for it.

Thanks for helping keep the books available for all students!

Featured New Titles

Women of the Beat Generation PS508.W7 W585 2000

By Brenda Knight

Female Beats wrote poetry, took drugs, went on the road, listened to jazz, and lived on the fringe just as the men did, but their accomplishments are not as widely recognized. This volume attempts to correct this oversight by profiling 40 women of the Beat generation and publishing samples of their work.

Mindfield: New and Selected Poems PS3505.O763 M56 1998

By Gregory Corso

The last original volume by Corso, a member of the Beat inner circle, in published in 1989 includes selections from six previous collections, ranging from The Vestal Lady on Brattle (1955) to Herald of the Autochthonic Spirit (1981), plus 23 previously uncollected poems spanning his entire career.

Dharma Bums PS3521.E735 D52 1986

By Jack Kerouac

Sparked by his contagious zest for life, Kerouac's novel relates the adventures of an ebullient group of seekers in a freewheeling exploration of Buddhism and the search for Truth.

MLA Tip

When using an electronic resource don't forget to have BOTH the date of the articles' publication and the date you accessed the document. Otherwise your citation is not complete!

Check the guide or ask a librarian if you are not sure how to proceed.
